

SHAM FIGHT ON STATEN ISLAND.

Infantry Driving the Cavalry Before them on the Richmond County Hills.

Instead of the usual field day in Prospect Park, the infantry, cavalry, and artillery of the Eleventh Brigade had a sham fight yesterday near New Brighton, Staten Island. All the commanding officers had topographical maps of the field, and by means of a signal corps kept themselves at all times in communication with Gen. Molineux and his staff. The battle began upon an elevated plateau whence there was a fine view of New York bay, Newark bay, and the Kill van Kull. Four hundred and sixty-six men of the Twenty-third Regiment, Col. Ward, 327 men of the Thirty-second, Col. Ringer, and 300 men of the Forty-second, Col. Brownell, advanced toward a place of instruction. In the audience were the Gov. Dr. William Adams, President of the institution and of the Union Theological Seminary, and Chairman of the entertainment; the Hon. Henry E. Davies, the first vice-president; Dr. John C. Hopper, the treasurer; M. Adams, Secretary; Directors Frederic D. Peyster, Avery T. Brown, Everett Herrick, M. D., Dr. L. H. Hinckley, Dr. J. C. Hopper, Dr. George E. Betts, Samuel V. Hoffman, the Rev. Dr. Thomas Galandet of St. Ann's Church; the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Stoddard, Morris K. Thompson, Dr. J. C. Hopper, Dr. J. C. Hopper, Dr. John C. Hopper, and the trustees of the institution at 151 street; J. Van Nostrand, C. W. Van Taschel, T. H. Jewell, B. B. Lloyd, and a numerous attendance of the wives and families of the officers.

A very gratifying part of the speech-making was the simultaneous repetition of Mr. Brooks' words to the muses in one parlor by Principal Peyster and General Brownell.
